Annual Stampede Is Great Success

The Raymond Stampede and Race Meet on July 1st and 2nd made history for the Stampede event in Raymond, according to all who attended. Despite the cold and disagreeable wind on Monday the grounds were literally packed, it being estimated that there were 4,000 people in the grounds that day. On the second day the crowd was not quite so large, but judging by the number of cars leaving the grounds at the close of the program, the total must have been nearly 3,000. The universal comment was that it was the best Stampede ever held in Raymond, and it was hoped by all the visitors that it would be staged again for two days next year.

The program was well arranged, and with Ray Knight, Manager, assisted by DeLass Lund, as assistant, the events were kept moving so that there were no idle moments, especially on the second day when one event followed the other in such rapid fire order that one could hardly keep track of them all. And added to all this was the fact that horses and steers have never bucked any harder than most of those did here this year. All the stock was in excellent condition, and this added to the performance they put up.

So much could be said, and many given praise for their part in the program that one hardly knows where to commence and where to stop in order to give all their just dues, and give no offence to others who assisted as much though not so important a role. Ray Knight who furnished the horses and Meeks Bros. who furnished the cattle, all free of charge should certainly be praised for the time and effort they put into it. J. W. Evans and his crew who had charge of the financial end of it, L. D. King and his committee who took care of the advertising, Jas. E. Meeks with his helpers who handled the races, Ray and "Dd" and their assistants who kept the chate events moving, all added to the interest and success of the day. Then the loud speaking apparatus, added its share in keeping the interest of the crowd. The second Ward people who kept the bangs of hunger and the thirstiness of the crowd at bay, all added their part to a happy, contented and delighted audience.

And to the contestants, too much cannot be said of the good spirit they showed in every event and the sportsmanship exhibited in every event of the two day program. They all took their thrills and spills like good sports, and got a great hand from the crowd whenever they put up an exceptionally fine exhibition. Judges of the bucking were Jos. Snow, Frank Whitney and Andy Noel, who gave perfect satisfaction throughout. T. O. King started the races, with D. M. Powelson, L. D. King and Loren Larson as judges and timekeepers.

All in all the whole thing was an outstanding success, and over it all C. D. Conington, President of the Board of Trade, exercised General Supervision, assisted by A. D. Woolley and Ross Larson who were responsible for the entries and seeing that none of the entries were overlooked nor slighted.

The events themselves were excellent. Pat Burton, to mention but 1 or 2 equalling the world's record in roping and tying a calf, when on the second day he had the struggling victim down and tied in thirty and three-fifth seconds. Then the bucking was good, and the second day, the finals especially, the horse put everything they had in their efforts to unseat the riders.

Without the full list of winners in each event which would be rather lengthy, we will state that Bingham, Furman, Tenney Meeks and Ray Knight were there with their horses in the races, and shared in the money more or less equally, along Minnie Warren, owned by Bingham was booted home to win more races than possibly any other horse on the track. The pony races were good and hotly contested, the Indian race were as usual interesting, and one horse was killed early in the running too hard, a beautiful chestnut sorrel belonging to Ray Knight, which dropped dead just over the finish line in the 1/4 mile event the first day and a dark sorrel owned by Arthur Healy, an Indian, which broke a blood vessel in the leg in the Relay the second day and died about half an hour after the race. Several riders were seated but none seriously hurt, and nothing happened to mar the success of the show.

Both dances were well attended and many favorable comments passed on the splendid floor. M. T. King and J. R. Salmon with the help of base ed, music being furnished by Lou King and his ambassadors. The kiddies had their innings in the forenoon, when under the direction of T. Geo. Wood and his Committee they were treated to ice cream cones, and a program of races that kept them busy all forenoon.

Here are the winners in some of the events:
Horse, Roping with Saddle Day Money:
First Day: Art Lund, Earl and Mel Bascom.
Second Day: Clark Lund, Ben Burdock and Ross Lund.
Final Money in Bucking:
Earl Bascom, Art Lund and Mel Bascom. These boys made wonderful rides in the final events, Earl's being particularly outstanding. There was keen competition in calf roping, 23 or more entries being made, and some very good tie-clocks.

Money for the first day went to: Eddie Ives who roped and tied in 17 seconds; and Pete Brunshead and Pat Burton both former Canadian Champions who each took 20 sec. to complete the job.
Second day money went to: Pat Burton, thirteen and three-fifths seconds; Teola Burton nineteen and four-fifths seconds; and Duffy Galbraith and Warner Linder each made 20 seconds for third place.

Final money for the Roping went to: Pat Burton, with 6 and one-tenth seconds on three calves; Eddie Ives with 63 and 1/10 and Herm Linder, 65 and nine tenths.

Earl Bascom won the Stee Decorating the first day in 1 seconds, and Clark Lund placed first the second day in 9 and 1/10 fraction. These steers were real racers and the horses in some cases were too slow to catch them until they were run down in the middle of the field.

All in all the Stampede was a real success, and those sponsoring it should feel well satisfied with the results. No final report can be made, but finally it will more than pay its way, and probably pave the way for an even better show next year.

Do something for God and make it possible for Him to do something to you.

Town Council Meets In Regular Session

Wedding Bells

SHIELDS — HARDY

Of interest to many Raymond people, who are acquainted with the family of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Shields, formerly of Raymond, is the marriage of their son Leonard, to Miss Elise Hardy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hardy of Stirling, which was solemnized in the Alberta Temple Thursday morning, with President Edw. J. Wood officiating, the parents of both bride and groom, and a number of friends witnessing the ceremony.

Following the marriage a sumptuous luncheon was spread on the lawn in the Temple park, where all did full justice to the good things provided. The young couple left after lunch for Macleod where they took the bus to Edmonton where the groom will attend the Summer School in session there.

The young couple will reside in the Tyrell's Lake district where the groom is teaching school. They have the best wishes of their many friends for a long and happily married life.

NEWS NOTES

R. E. Pilling, horse buyer of Cardston, was a Raymond visitor Tuesday and Wednesday of this week.

It is intimated that the Social Credit candidates for the various ridings in the Province may be announced the last of this week.

Jasmin, village and district, near Saskatoon, was visited by a hail storm Wednesday evening, when hail stones as large as pigeon eggs fell breaking many windows, damaging crops, and breaking windows in the C. N. R. transcontinental train.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Shields and family of Tyrell's Lake were here for the Stampede, guests of the Fisher family, parents of Mrs. Shield.

The Taylor Stake Temple excursion to the Temple on Wednesday was fairly well attended by Stirling and Magrath wards. Well were there in good numbers. The two Raymond wards were interfered with by cause of the Stampede, and are taking a later date probably July 24th. Watch for definite date.

President Z. W. Jacobs and President John S. Smith of the Alberta Stake Presidency addressed interested audiences in the two Raymond wards last Sunday evening on Genealogical and Temple themes. Good musical numbers in both wards rounded out a very interesting evening.

In order to curtail butter production and increase production and consumption of cheese the Federal house is considering a law requiring milk purchased for cheese production. This would be a benefit two ways, curbing surplus butter is causing a depression effect on the market, and we are continually running out of Canadian Stilton cheese.

It is announced that the Alberta election will likely be held about the 9th or 16th of August, to try and get it over before harvest begins. The same paper carried the intimation that the Federal election will possibly be held somewhere about September 20th. It looks as though we may have a very busy summer season if we have two campaigns going on together.

The regular meeting of the Town Council was held July 4th, being one week ahead of regular schedule to permit some of the employees to get away on their vacations. All were present, Mayor Meeks coming in a little late being detained in the country. The first business of the meeting was the reading of the minutes of last meeting and the consideration of the Cash report.

Several matters of routine business were considered, and discussions instructions were given to the Constable to strictly enforce the by-law regarding riding of bicycles on sidewalks and pasturing of stock in the streets. One instance was reported of a citizen being knocked down by a bicycle ridden on the sidewalk, and before anyone was injured in this way, it was decided to issue a warning to all to keep bicycles off the walks.

Roads and culverts were discussed, and several new culverts decided on. The weed question was discussed, it being decided to have the Constable supervise the weed killing, and to use the liquid poison again which worked very well on the Sow Thistle patches throughout the town last year.

The progress of the work at the intake dam was reported, and those in charge stated that the dam was pretty well protected from immediate danger now, and that as soon as piling could be obtained, some piling would be driven to further protect and re-inforce the earthwork.

A water tank to mount on a chassis and keep full for immediate use on small fires was discussed, and investigations are being made regarding this.

LOVELY SONGS GREAT AID TO 'MERRY WIDOW'

E. Leaning, Lehar Melodies Sung to Perfection by Chevalier and Jeanette MacDonald

The famous triumvirate of Ernst Lubitsch, Maurice Chevalier and Jeanette MacDonald returns to the screen in its most glamorous achievement in "The Merry Widow," spectacular transcription of the Franz Lehar masterpiece, bringing to the screen for the first time the music loved all over the world.

One much talked of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer super-production, will be playing at the Capitol next Friday and Saturday.

NEWS NOTES

The Calgary Stampede will open Monday. The management are looking for the best crowds in years.

J. O. Hicken, Principal of the Public School left on Tuesday morning for summer school in Edmonton.

Bishop W. E. Pitcher and wife of Cardston were here Monday for the Stampede and were guests of Bishop and Mrs. Walker.

Reverend H. Walker left Monday afternoon for Lettbridge where he took the night train to Edmonton for the U.F.A. camp held there Friday and Wednesday.

Ray Knight is in Calgary with his string of buckers for the Stampede there. If they buck there like they did here the riders will taste Calgary dirt too.

HIGHER LEARNING

Raymond and district is glad to welcome home again her college young people. Graduation ceremonies all over the country bring to mind the thought of how we came to have colleges.

According to the New International Encyclopaedia, "The early colleges grew out of the monastic care of the indigent, sick and feeble, and were at first, in connection with hospitals, established by the various orders."

"Under the influence of the mendicant orders and the example of Robert de Sorbonne, who about 1255 founded the college which bears his name for students who had already taken the earlier degree, colleges became more numerous."

was the first college to be established in the United States. It

Harvard University (1636) was started by church folks who desired "to preserve and perpetuate in their new home the classical and theological learning acquired by many of them at the University of Cambridge (England) and to educate the 'English and Indian youth' in knowledge and godliness."

William and Mary was the second college to be established in the colonies. Rev. James Blair and a group of co-religionists secured in 1693 its charter from King William and Queen Mary. The Rev. Mr. Blair was its first president. The Phi Beta Kappa fraternity was established here in 1776. The encyclopaedia also informs us that "most of the earlier and many of the latter colleges" were established by churches.

Many blessings have been made possible for the race through science, art, medicine, law, engineering and religion because our colleges have opened their doors to all regardless of creed or no creed.

The churches are greatly encouraged and strengthened during the vacation periods by the returning young people.

THE DOOR STANDS OPEN

(by John Edwin Price)

In an unusual poem by a high school student, reported in the book—'CREATIVE YOUTH'—the graduates are likened to those who stand in a doorway.

Wynne Fairfield remembers that the young people on the inside have, up until graduation, given little thought to those who are continually passing by the door of the school on the outside. Undecided they are as to whether or not they dare to step out into the crowd as it swirls by.

The author stands by the window and watches the sad tired pleasant, happy, hurrying throng who have written on their faces an eagerness for something elusive which is always just beyond. She sees some anxiously running, as if they might, by sheer physical effort, catch up with the thing they are seeking.

Some are coming back. Their "faces are lined and ugly, but their eyes are wise." Not all are so marked, or should we say "marred" by their experiences, here are those whose faces simply indicate emptiness, not having sensed the meaning of that through which they were passing.

The author seems interested in the face that to her typifies her own, one with continually questioning light. Then she sees a man whose face was once fair and joyful, unsullied by the lines of remorse, and concerning him she says:—

"His eyes are broken windows, and he babble without sense;

What is this world, that does such things to men?"

She pictures one man trying to reclaim the things which the thoughtless young ones are dropping. What these things of character are we are left to surmise.

And presently she realizes that while she has been watching from the window all the rest have gone. She bemoans the fact that while she has taken in the situation it is too late to warn them of the dangers outside the open door. And then comes the happy climax of what might otherwise be a distressing picture, for she writes:—

"I take a last glance back and gently close the door behind me;

I catch a friendly hand that's half outstretched;

And I am part of the crowd,"

It is not a joyful thought to friends with hands outstretched. There would be no hands outstretched if life were not filled to the brim with things beautiful and joyful thought to who have sensed them from the beginning, or to those who have tried things that brought severe discipline and thus learned to search for the pure gold to be found in the great mine of life just outside the open door.

MY DEBT TO MY TOWN

My debt to my town is a debt which I cannot pay. I have lived within the limits of the town and shared all its benefits. Haven't I had the benefits of its schools and churches? Haven't I had the use of its parks and public places? Haven't I had the protection of its fire, police and health departments? Haven't its people, during all this time, been gathering for me from the four corners of the earth, food for my table, clothing for my body and material for my home?

Hasn't my town furnished the patronage by which I have succeeded in my business? Hasn't it furnished the best friends of my life, whose ideals have been my cheer, and whose helpfulness has carried me over the greatest difficulties.

"What will I give in return? Not simply the taxes which cover so small a part of what I have received. I want to give more; I want, of my own free will, to give enough that I can rightfully say, 'This is my town,' so that I can take pride in its prosperity. In the honors which come to its citizens, and all that make it better and greater.

"I can only do this by becoming a part of the town—by giving to it generously of myself. In this way only can I, even in small part, pay the great debt I owe to my town."—Selected.

The depressed price of farm products is a problem with which everyone is familiar, but on the 1913 basis farm product prices have never been as low as gasoline. Between 1913 and 1920 gasoline did not rise in price to nearly the same extent as farm products, yet since 1920 its price has almost continuously declined. The data for the above graph are based on figures published by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics.

FAIR LABOR POLICIES BENEFIT THE CONSUMER

WORRY and unhappiness are enemies of efficiency. We have always tried to be efficient and years ago we said, "to the greatest extent possible let us get worry and unhappiness out of this organization—out of the minds of every man and woman in our employ."

So Imperial Oil has always paid high wages. It set up sickness and death benefits, a pensions plan and group insurance for its workers. It made it easy for them to share ownership in the Company. It gave them a voice in the discussion of Company policies that directly affect them. It introduced the forty-hour week, thus increasing the number of those who work for the Company.

Efficiency and loyalty are repaying the Company for all these measures. Imperial Oil employees give generously of their hands and minds because they are well treated. They feel secure and this feeling is reflected in their work and in the high quality and lower cost of the products they make. The consumer benefits, the employees benefit and the Company benefits by these policies.

COVER CROPS FOR SOIL DRIFT CONTROL

Cover crops have been used for many years in the area near the foothills of Alberta from High River to Granum to help prevent soil drifting and this method of control is still the one most widely used in that locality. Cover crops are also being introduced in other parts of the prairies where moisture is sufficient to permit the sacrifice, for the production of a cover crop, of some of the moisture stored in the fallow.

Spring grain is commonly used as a cover crop and is seeded early enough to give sufficient growth to furnish proper protection to the soil after the plants have been frozen. The actual amount of growth needed depends on the likelihood of the soil to drift; for example fields that are in narrow strips and that are protected by a good trash cover of stubble, or other material, do not require as much crop covering as unstripped, bare fields. The general practice in western Alberta is to finish seeding by the first of August.

Light seedings are made of two to three pecks of oats per acre or a relative amount of other grain.

There is considerable difference of opinions as to the best kind of grain to use as a cover crop. Some prefer oats, some think that it is too difficult to secure oats free from wild oats so they use wheat, while others maintain that barley gives the best protection. Some farmers use the same kind and variety of grain for cover crop planting as will be seeded on the land the following spring. This practice will avoid contamination of volunteer plants from seed that did not germinate in the fall.

Pasturing of cover crops is practiced extensively and the farmers have found this a welcome way to secure additional revenue where they have water and stock available. Caution is required in pasturing, however, as much soil drifting has resulted from pasturing off too much of the cover crop.

One mistake that has been made is that too much reliance with the results that a failure has been placed on cover crops or partial failure of this crop to furnish protection has resulted in serious drifting taking place. Many recognize this danger and are supplementing cover crops with strip farming and with trash covers. Where fields are satisfactorily stripped and trash covers are maintained the addition of a cover crop may provide a complete control, even on sandy or clay soil.

At present cover crops are confined almost entirely to areas of good rainfall but it would undoubtedly be advisable in drier localities to seed down fields of fallow if their condition at the end of July indicated that they were likely to drift. This might result in the loss of soil moisture, but the injury to the next year's crop would not be as great from this loss of moisture as would result from the drifting of the soil.

GRAIN EXCHANGE MAKES OFFER TO AID PROBE INTO OPERATIONS

Reveals Exchange Suggested Months Ago That Appointment of Pool Man as Government Supervisor Would be Welcomed.

In order to clarify its position in view of statements made at Ottawa, the Winnipeg Grain Exchange has issued the following statements:

"On Friday afternoon the Prime Minister in a speech in the House of Commons reiterated the allegation originally made by Mr. John I. McFarland last October that foreign grain firms were engaged in a bear raid in the Winnipeg market. This allegation was investigated by the Council of the Winnipeg Grain Exchange and was fully answered in a statement issued and published in the press November 2, 1934, in the following terms:

"On October 1st, Winnipeg newspapers carried an interview with Mr. John I. McFarland, who is in charge of the government's wheat operations, in which he stated that he would recommend to the government at Ottawa that an investigation be made into the selling of wheat on the Winnipeg market and would urge the government to make representations to the governments of Argentina and the United Kingdom that they take similar action in regard to the futures markets in Buenos Aires and Liverpool. About October 6th a mischievous dispatch purporting to be the inside story of an organized bear raid on the Winnipeg grain market during the two previous weeks appeared in many of the leading newspapers throughout Canada. This dispatch originated apparently from some newspaper service in Winnipeg. It made free use of Mr. McFarland's name and its contents would lead many people to believe that figures and supposed facts given in it must have originated from Mr. McFarland's organization. The article is inaccurate and misleading; there was no condition existing in the trading on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange that would justify such a story. It reads like fiction, and to the best of our knowledge that is just what it is. There is no evidence in the figures showing the market position of grain firms as at September 17th and October 1st, secured by the Council of the Exchange from the Clearing House, and which have been disclosed to Mr. McFarland, that any bear raid was attempted. Mr. McFarland has also been advised by the Council that the International Trusts whose names have been mentioned in this connection were ready to authorize the Clearing House to make the figures having their trading available to him.

"The international investigation suggested by Mr. McFarland on October 1st should, in our opinion, not be lost sight of. There can be no argument about the fact that our greatest need is to export more Canadian wheat, and if there is any hope that an independent international investigation into the situation in the Canadian, Argentine and English markets will disclose anything in the actions of government agencies or individuals that is making it difficult for us to market our wheat abroad, it should be undertaken at once. It would obviously be in the interest of the whole country as well as of our wheat producers. It would, we are sure, be welcomed by the grain trade of Canada.

"The Council of the Exchange is prepared to afford facilities for investigation of the trading operations of all its members, without exception by competent and impartial persons, if such an investigation is deemed to be in the public interest, and has previously advised Mr. McFarland that the Exchange would, in addition, lend all possible assistance to a government supervisor of the kind recommended by the Stamp Commission should the government see fit to appoint one.

"The action of the Winnipeg Grain Exchange in setting minimum prices for December and May wheat of 75c and 80c per bushel respectively was taken at the instance of the Dominion government and in pursuance of the policy the Exchange has consistently pursued of co-operating with the Dominion government, and government wheat agency."

"Following the issuance of this statement, R. W. Milner, the President, with the authority of the Council, advised Mr. McFarland that the Winnipeg Grain Exchange would welcome the appointment by the Dominion Government, to the position of Grain Exchange supervisor, of George Melvor, who has been assistant to Mr. McFarland since December 1930, and who previously to that was General Sales Manager of the Canadian Co-operative Wheat Producers Limited (the Pool Central Selling Agency). The offer of the Council that it was prepared to afford facilities for investigation of the trading operations of all its members, without exception, and as to the appointment of a Grain Exchange supervisor, as suggested by the Stamp Commission, has never been withdrawn. Representatives of the Winnipeg Grain Exchange now in Ottawa are prepared and anxious to appear before the special committee of the House of Commons, which has just been appointed, to meet the allegations which have been made with reference to the bear raid and the supposed present short position, and to supply any information which the committee may require."

THREE STEPS TO BEAUTY

Now that we realize the value of an unhurried attitude during our daily twenty minutes beauty regime, stressed in my previous article, we are going to learn the three steps to beauty which should, if possible, be included in this period.

You can, if you wish devote the twenty minutes, so that part of it is spent before going to bed, and part in the morning, during your bath. Busy women have learned what wonders can be worked in the skin even while they take their bath.

When you get up in the morning awaken your skin with a Skin Clearing Cream. This awakes the whole face, gently stimulating it to new daytime beauty. Soread it over the face and neck, and leave on while you bathe.

After the bath, take a clean tissue and remove all the surplus cream. Then, close the pores and brace the tissues with a skin toning lotion, which is also a good base for your powder. Remember that a good foundation and powder act as a protective veil against the weather and the dirt of town or city. As an illustration of how necessary protection of this sort is, look at the skin of your body; how young, smooth and fine it is! Because it is always protected from the effects of weather and dirt by your clothes. Now, that is what we endeavor to provide the skin with, in a foundation cream and a fine, clinging powder.

In the evening before retiring, you must remove all old makeup and the day's accumulation of dirt from the face with a penetrating cream. Then, when the skin is fresh and clean, bring the blood to the surface with a mild stimulant if your face is young and a stronger one if it is sagging.

The third step is of course, the skin's daily nourishment with a tissue cream, which is rich in food values. The hungry tissues can absorb it and thus repair the ravages of time. The older one grows the more necessary the natural oils. And we must remember this when washing the face, always replacing the oils, which have been washed away with a little nourishing cream.

YOU CAN'T STOP STOKING A STEAM ENGINE -- SAID WRIGLEY

Interviewed, and asked to what he attributed his phenomenal success, the late Mr. Wrigley, of chewing gum fame, replied, "To the consistent advertising of a good product."

"But," asked the reporter, "having captured practically the entire market, why continue to spend vast sums annually in advertising?"

Wrigley's reply was illuminating.

Once having raised steam in an engine, he stated, it requires continuous stoking to keep it up. Advertising stokes up business and keeps it running on a full head of steam.

This applies to YOUR business, too. Don't make a secret of your product. Tell people about it. Tell them what it does. Tell them its advantages. Tell them where to get it. Tell them through the Press and keep on telling them.

The decorations of flags etc, which were in evidence for the holidays added appreciably to the spirit of the two days.

A thick voice and heavy head was the sum total of the celebration to some people judging by what was seen Wednesday morning.

M. Rayo Woolf was in Carleton Friday attending the funeral of his father-in-law Orson
O. Bigelow, who died Monday in Pincher Creek.

The only thing wrong with the rain Thursday evening was that there was not enough of it. It was wonderful while it lasted.

The Indians from the Blood
Reserve were here in goodly nu-mers both days of the Stampede, and shared in the glory of the events.

The High School marks for some of the Grades have been handed in, but due to a lack of time, we will be forced to hold these over until next week's issue.

The Peace River area is one vast lake and considerable dam-ag has been done to crops and property there. We would like a little rain, but we wouldn't want the taps turned on quite that strong.

Well, the Stampede is over meantime we trust that sug-for another year, and in the gestions may be received for making next year's events better than even this year, and from reports, there was little to be desired over what the crowd received Monday and Tuesday.

Orson Biglow, father of Mrs.
Rayo Woolf, and known to many Raymond people, and especially livestock men, died very suddenly in Pincher Creek on Dominion Day. He seemed in normal health, and reached out to shake hands with an acquaintance, and dropped over in a faint. He was rushed to Hospital but died a few hours later.
His old home was in Glenwood, and he was well known throughout the south-western part of the Province.

ASK FOR Kellogg's

In hot, muggy weather, when most cereals lose their freshness, Kellogg's Corn Flakes reach your table oven-crisp. They never stay long on your grocer's shelf. An exclusive method of manufacture gives them greater crispness. And only Kellogg's are protected by the heat-sealed WAXTITE bag, inside the red-and-green package.

In summer particularly you want the extra quality and value Kellogg's Corn Flakes give. Matchless flavor and crispness. Many generous servings for a few cents. Insist on the best. Quality guaranteed. Made by Kellogg in London, Ontario.
